The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 8-12, 18, 20, 28, 30-36 and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by EP '510.

EP '510 discloses compositions for producing carbon-carbon composites. These compositions are taught as comprising mesophase pitch, other particulate fillers such as silicon carbide and phenolic resins. The reference teaches the pitch to be derived through various process steps and therefore is considered as synthetic.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-4, 13-17 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over EP '510 in view of Hopper et al.

EP '510 discloses mesophase carbon compositions as discussed above. The reference lacks a teaching of the species of phenolic resins claimed instantly and the incorporation of crosslinkers.

The reference to Hopper et al teaches the use of phenol-formaldehyde resins of the resole and novolac types in similar A-stage, B-stage compositions. The reference further teaches the incorporation of hexamethyl tetramine as crosslinker.

Art Unit: 1714

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize art known phenolic resins in combination with art known crosslinkers in the preparations of the primary reference.

Claims 5-7, 19, 21-25, 27, 29 and 37-38 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
